

I am a user of XM radio. My wife, myself and my son all tune in. The added feature of getting local (Boston) weather is very useful. Radio is not only about entertainment. It is also for disseminating important information, and I believe traffic conditions and weather are important and help people make well informed traveling decisions. Lobbying to restrict the transmission of the same content that conventional radio stations are allowed seems a discriminatory and self serving pursuit.